

John Jameson

John Jameson is a Partner with Jobplex, Inc. a DHR International company. Jobplex leads the recruiting industry in offering diversified search services for the emerging leader/next generation of executive; thereby complementing DHR International's senior-level executive search practice. John's practice includes engagements throughout the Private Equity, Real Estate, Financial Services (including legal), and Media sectors across North America.

Prior to joining Jobplex, John served as a Senior Associate in DHR International's Private Equity Practice where he led search execution on diverse C-level assignments. His clients have included publicly traded, privately held, and private equity sponsored companies across industries.

"John's dedication and great work as a DHR Sr. Associate earned his new role as a Partner at Jobplex," said Justin Hirsch, President and HR Executive Search lead for Jobplex. "We're excited to have him and are very confident that his standard of excellence will carry over in this role."

Before he became a part of the DHR group, John was a Team Lead and Executive Recruiter at Creative Financial Staffing. Prior to his involvement in executive search, John had a successful career in corporate recruiting at General Growth Properties and CNA Insurance. He has hired 400+ professionals in his 15-year career in recruiting. He also founded and led Connecting Insights, a networking training consultancy.

John has coauthored authored two books: "Corporate Bold in 2009," and, "Your Undergraduate Degree in Psychology: College to Career in 2013," with a third entitled "Just Ask", which will be published by Bloomsbury this fall. He holds a bachelor's degree in Organizational Psychology from DePaul University and a master's degree in Organizational Psychology from The Chicago School of Professional Psychology.

John and his wife, Johanna, reside outside of Chicago, where they own Memory Farm, which offers farm-based activities for people living with dementia.

John enjoys fishing and takes a trip every summer to his former home in Alaska, where he previously lived, to go salmon fishing with family and friends.
